THE VAN VALENS HELD FOR TREAD.

THE CASE SUMMED UP BY THE PRISONERS' COUNSEL.

AND THE DISTRICT-ATTORNEY.

The examination in the Brower murder case at Tappan was closed yesterday and the prisoners were bell for trail. No witnesses were put on the sand for the defence. The prisoners' counsel. Core in Hoffman, occupied over two hours in summing up the case. He said that there was no evidence produced to show that the prisoners were guilty. The three colored marks on the right side of the murdered woman's neck he thought might have been made in many ways. It was possible that at one time there was a colored band on her neck and that portions of it were away, leaving only three distinct marks. The tracks in the outlied between the houses of the Van Vatens and the Browers might have been made by animals walking through it, or by a storm or in some other such manner. He thought that the detective who worked up the case was responsible for much of the evidence given by the witnesses.

Alouzo Wheeler, the District-Attornsy, said that evidence had been given that there were three finger-marks on Hannah Brower's neck, showing that she had been choked by a man who had lost a finger. Tracks were also discovered leading from the Van Valens' house to the place where the murder was committed, indicating that the perpetrators had started from the Van Valens' harn, It was also proved that Francis had lost a finger of his left hand, which corresponded with the vacant space between the marks on the neck of Hannah Brower, and that he was seen secretly ironing something in his house shortly after the aunder was discovered. Mr. Wheeler said that it was necessary for the murderer to wash and iron his clothes secretly, as they must have been stained with blood. He connected Jacob Van Vaien with the marder because evidence was produced to show that he had tall knowledge of how the crime was committed before it was known to the members of the Brower family. No one could be found who had told Jacob the circumstances; yet he knew how the

THE WHITE HOUSE DINNER SERVICE.

A duplicate autograph set of the White House percelain service made by Haviland & Co., of Lingues, for the Executive Manston, has been recently received by Haviland, Merrit & Co., of No. 14 Barelay-st. The set comprises 135 meets, decorated with designs by Theodore R. Davis, illustrating exclusively American fauna and flora.

In the oyster plates the colors are laid upon the chima clay under the glaze, both being fired at the same time. Five Bias Point oyster shells cover the principal portion of the plate, beyond which is a cluster of the recoon oysters of the Southern States surrounded by seaweed on a background representing the occan. The some-plates are shaped like a ten-sided angular bowl, the contour conforming to the base and edges of the laurer flower. An Indian sitting on the verge of a cataract, the palmetto cabinge, the harvest moon shining upon a field of Indian corn and pumpkins, a mountain cabin with tomatoes placed on a board to ripen in the sun, a green turtle crawling between the ribs of an old wheek on a Florida reef, a clam-bake a frog sitting on a stone in a summer shower, and an ill-fashioned open fireplace and swinging crane of a New-En-shad home are among the designs of the some-plates. The fish-piatter is rectangular in form, with the corners rolled in and enriched with gold. The design represents a huge shad struggling to free itself from the meshes of a net. Each plate gives a spirited representation of a different kind of hish in the water.

The platter for the roast shows a magnificent turkey standing proudly out upon the snow against a high-colored sunset. Among the designs on the

the grouse and ptarmigan to the rice bird, are represented.

Among the chincapins, papaws and granes adorning the fruit plates is a design showing a New-England sugar camp, and another of bears revelling in pails of buckleberries, the owners of which have been frightened away. The artist's studio on the sea shore at Asbury Park is also shown. The form of the coffee cup is derived from a joint of bamboo, a sprout springing from the eye simulating the handle. The handle of the teacup, which is shaped like a mandariu's hat inverted, is formed by the stem of a tea plant, the leaves decorating the outside. The uncitor is a delicate green, the saucer and outside being enriched with dead gold. An independent butter plate represents the leaf of the white water life, upon which is a drop of water.

Captain Clinchey, of the Eighteenth Precinct. yesterday arrested Annie Hauritz, alias Annie Harrisson, the keeper of a disorderly house at No. 144 East Twenty-second-st., on a warrant issued by Justice Bixby on the affidavit of Mary E. Collingsworth, of White Mills, Penn., who was found in the house by the police Wednesday might. On Wednesday Superintendent Walling received a letter from the father of the girl, who is employed in a glass-blowing factory in White Mills, which stated that five months ago his daughter had been lured from her home and that he had information that she was forcibly detained in a house in East Twenty-second-st. The superintendent referred the matter to Captain Clinchey, giving him a photograph of the young woman. The Captain, accompanied by Detectives Carey and Malvy, went to a number of houses in Twenty-second-st., and at No. 144 found the object of their search. On seeing them the young woman burst into tears, and said that she had been confined within doors for five months and strictly guarded. On Thursday Mary was taken before Justice Bixby in the Yorkville Police Court, where she made an affidavit against Annie Hauritz To some friends in Brooklyn when she was jured away. She had not been yilowed to write to her friends or go out of doors while there. Annie Hauritz was held in $1,000 bail for trial and the young woman was sent to the House of Detention. KEPT A PRISONER FOR FIVE MONTHS.

HOW GENERAL GRANT SPENT ONE EVENING.

General Grant was present at the entertainments given by two churches last night. During the first part of the evening he attended the fifth annual teaparty and concert of the Sixty-first Street Methodiat Episcopal Church, of which the Rev. Lindsay Parker is paster, and later he visited the fair of the Madison Avenue Congregational Church. At the concert Mrs. Florence Rice-Knox was singing a solo when General and Mrs. Grant entered and took the seats which had been reserved to them in the middle aisle. Mrs. Rice-Knox was heartily applanded, and sang "Mrs. Lofty" in response. After the concert refreshments were served at seventeen tables, presided over by Mrs. P. Haulenbeck, Mrs. R. B. Relley, Mrs. J. Raddell, Mrs. Danks, Mrs. R. Lavery, Mrs. Charles Whedon, Mrs. C. C. Ellis, Mrs. A. G. Nason, Miss Palmer, Mrs. J. Hiscock, Mrs. Lowerre, Mrs. Rilpatrick, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. J. Mackey, Mrs. A. Fowler, Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Banks Morrison and Mrs. Grant arrived at the Madison Avenue Charles Har at 10 p. m. When the expression a soperared he was greeted with enthusiastic appliance and the waving of hats and handker-chiefs. Taking a position in the centre of the hall the General shook hands with many of those present, stalwart policemen keeping the people in line. The fair will remain open until next Wednesday. THE BROOKLYN TABERNACLE.

THE BROOKLYN TABERNACLE.

Major B. R. Corwin, former president of the Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Tabernacle and for fourteen years superintendent of its Sunday-school, has made public a long statement setting forth his work in building up the church, and giving the correspondence between himself and the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage relative to his refusal to be again nominated as trustee after his torm expired, November 1, 1880, and his resignation from the superintendency of the Sunday-school. He claims that while Mr. Talmage was professedly neutral in the matter of the election of the functions, and he gives one letter in which Mr. Talmage says he does not know the sentiment of the church in the matter of his retirement from the Sunday-school superintendency, and another, written five days later, in which Mr. Talmage says he has received the signatures of sixty-one officers and teachers of the school to a paper opposed to Mr. Corwin's remaining, and the views of the Session of the church to the same effect. Major Corwin says he has the names of forty-five of the eighty-one officers and teachers of the school who deny signing any such paper.

THE PANAMA CANAL COMPANY. ASSERTIONS THAT SECRETARY THOMPSON WILL BE-COME THE CHAIRMAN OF THE AMERICAN COM-MITTEE.

The receipt of the news yesterday that all the stock of the Panama Canal Company had been sold in Paris was followed by a rumor that Secretary Thompson of the Navy was to be the chairman of the American Committee. Secretary Thompson arrived in town yesterday morning, and held conterences with the Messus, Seligman & Co., Drexel, Morgan & Co., and Winslow, Lamer & Co., members of the American Committee. The question of the chairmanship formed the subject of discussion, it is said. The appointing power lies with the officers of the company in Paris, but the Messus, Seligman stated vesterday to a Thinunk reporter that the position would be formally offered to Secretary Thompson, and that he had signified his willingness to accept it. SUSPECTING AN AMBUSH.

SUSPECTING AN AMBUSII.

Miss Eva M. Leich, of Brooklyn, obtained a warrant a few days ago for the arrest of Charles H. Layson, of Sea Crift, L. h., upon a charge of betrayal under promise of matriage. Layson was employed on a dredging machine near the foot of Atlantic-ava, and the warrant was placed in the hands of a detective for service. The grif had been in the habit of seeing Layson by signaling him from the shore, when he would come from the dredging scow in a bout. She therefore suggested to the detective that he should be on hand when they met Thursday, hat Layson refused to land from the boat, although the detective was concealed. When the officer saw that he was not about to get his prisoner, he called to Layson to come ashore, at the same time drawing a revolver. But Layson refused to be persuaded in this way and rowed out in the stream. The detective finally had to get a boat to reach the dredging soow and serve the warrant. Layson appeared in court yesterday and formished $2,000 had for his appearance for examination. He denies the charge against him. against him.

SLEEPING IN A HOLLOW TREE.

Sergeant Finnerty, of the Richmond County police, Thursday night, while passing by the old Vanderbiit homestead at Staplicion, S. 1., heard grouns. On making an investigation he discovered a boy half frozen in a hollow tree. The sergeant conveyed the lad to Police Headquarters, where he was made comfortable for the night. Yesterday he told Justice McCullough that he had been turned out of his father's house and had slept in the old tree at night for the last three weeks. He said that his name was Henry Stagemann, and that he was ten years old. The father of the boy, who was present in court, said that his son, not caring to go to school, ran away from home. The father quit the court-room taking the boy with him.

CHARITIES AND STREET-CLEANING.

SENATE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATIONS. TESTIMONY OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTION-OPINIONS OF THE HEAD OF THE STREET-CLEANING BUREAU. Two witnesses were examined before the Senate Committee on Cities yesterday. The first was Fownsend Cox, president of the Board of Commissioners of Charities and Correction. Mr. Cox said there were 818 employes in the Department and that more were needed. The appropriations for the Department for the last even years were as follows: 1874, $1.324,345; 1875, $1,183,000; 1876, $1,185,000; 1877, $1,192,500; 1878, $1,170,000; 1879, $1,277,000; 1889, $1,348,383 34 The increase in 1880 was due to the appropriation of $154,200 for building improvements.

Public sentiment, he said, has declared that there have been too few persons engaged in earing for the insane. The plan has latterly been adopted of instructing such of the insane as are capable of receiving instruction in useful mechanical pursuits, and about 375 male insanpersons now do useful work, such as farming, carpen tering, painting, plumbing and snoemaking. The lusan persons appear to enjoy the work, and it is beneficial to hard to get competent service for such poor pay. Mr. cox denied that out-door relief was influenced by political considerations.

The average cost of a male lunatic is 30 center day, and of a female lunatic 22 cents a day. The per capita daily expense of the in mates of the various institutions controlled by the Department, is as follows: City Prisons, 33 cents; Bellevue Hospital, 44 cents; Charily Hospital, 30 cents; Penitentiary, 34 cents; Almshouse, 124 cents; Incur able Hospital, 13½ cents; Workhouse, 18 cents; Lunn-tic Asylum,23 cents; Homospathic Hospital,23½ cents; Incbriate Asylum, 41's cents; Insane Asylum, 31 cents; Randali's Island Hospitai, 28 cents; Infants' Hospital, 27 cents; Branch Workhouse, 34 cents; Branch Lunatic Asylum, 25 cents, and Harr's Island Hospital, 233g cents. Mr. Cox explained the system employed in purchasing supplies, and said that he did not think the supply clerk ever received any consideration for his the supply clerk ever received any consideration for his patronage. The appropriation for 1880 had proved in adequate, because of a rise in prices and the Department had not been able to supply the demand for blankers. The average of salaries paid to employes was only $375 a year, and the Public Burdens Bitt would reduce this amount 10 per cent. It would be tound to be very hard to get competent service for such poor pay. Mr. Cox denied that out-door relief was influenced by political considerations.

Captain Alexander S. Williams, inspector of the Bureau of Street Cleaning, was the next and last witness. He said that on the finest business basis his bureau did not have money enough to clean the streets, and that therefore there could not be much waste of meney.

"The means of getting rid of garbage," said he, "are primitive. We should have seagoing vissels. The question of the thorough cleaning of the streets linges upon the question of getting rid of parbage," said he, "are primitive. We should have seagoing vissels. The question of the thorough cleaning of the streets linges upon the question of getting rid of both; the only way to enterprises for the removal of ashes," he continued, "often dump garbage in the bay and our bureau gets the credit for it. It garbage and ashes were separate it would be much easier to get rid of both; the only way to secure their separation would be to compel property-owners to furnish separate receptacles.

The witness thought it would take $800,000 to clean the streets, and frankly admitted that the committee need not to expect to receive any suggestion from him pointing to a reduction of the cost of his bureau. He recommended that not less than eight sea-going vessels be provided for the department, at a cost of about $80,000 cach; and that the water from he bought below $100,000 cach; and that the water from he bought below $100,000 cach; and that the contract system could never be a success.

Benator McCarthy asked the opinion of Captain Williams should be left with the Poince Department, and that the contract system could never be a success.

Benator McCarthy asked the opinion of Captain Williams should an alleged practice policemen have of buying raticoid Bekets for persons who do not like to wait in line at the department, as there were not railroad depota enough to go around among the police.

A heated discussion then took place on ween Sen
